Visible load break isolators and enclosures. Made in Australia and made to last

ABOUT KOENIGS

Koenigs is an Australian-owned and operated electromechanical engineering and manufacturing company servicing the heavy industrial and mining sectors in Australia and around the globe.

Established in 1984 in Wollongong NSW, the company has developed a state-of-the-art workshop with a skilled and dedicated workforce.

Koenigs is small enough to provide personal service and large enough to deliver the professionalism expected of a world-class business.

"If you make a good product put your name on it and stand by it."
- Colin Koenig, Founder
